Supplementation Purchase Policy of Dr. LoBisco, ND

As part of my nutritional and lifestyle consulting, I understand that Dr. Sarah LoBisco, ND, may suggest the use of supplementation in order to enhance my wellness. These supplements may or may not contain animal products or gelatin. It is my responsibility to inform Dr. LoBisco of any nutritional restrictions or allergies during my consultation and to double check all ingredients if I have an allergy before using it.

It is Dr. LoBisco's practice to evaluate each case on an individual basis and to special order each supplement from her suppliers and distributors (e.g., Healthwave, Fullscript, Standard Process/Mediherb, Young Living Essential Oils). I realize that Dr. LoBisco chooses not to have a supplement inventory on hand in order to make available in her selection the best fit for my nutritional and health concerns at the time of the consultation.

Due to the fact that each order is individually placed and priced, and that Dr. LoBisco chooses to not keep an inventory of products, I realize that supplements are either paid for upfront by me to Dr. LoBisco, in order for her to purchase the products and provide me with this individual selection, and are non-refundable, or, paid directly by me through my credit card for essential oils and USP grade nutraceuticals which require a personal account through Dr. LoBisco's referral.

I understand that Dr. LoBisco will only place my order for supplements when payment is received. Dr. LoBisco will not be liable for any supplements I choose to purchase during her wellness consults.
